How efficient are flexible solar panels?

Flexible solar panels typically have an efficiency rating between seven and 15 percent. Use the EnergySage Marketplace to learn more about your solar options! There are very few (if any) solar installers who offer flexible panels as part of a rooftop or ground-mounted system.

Are flexible solar panels better than rigid solar panels?

Flexible panels are constructed with silicon layers over 300 times smaller than those of standard solar panels, allowing them to be flexed and still retain their functionality. The greatest obstacle for flexible solar panels is that they're much less efficient than rigid panels. Today's average rigid solar panels are about 16-20% efficient.
