

How to distinguish the authenticity of Trina photovoltaic panels

Is Trina Solar vertex s+ more efficient than SunPower?

Looking at the table above, Trina Solar's Vertex S+ panel is 1.2% less efficient but about 20% cheaper per watt than its SunPower counterpart. Trina Solar is an innovative solar panel manufacturer that continuously advances its technology.

Which solar panels use monocrystalline or Polycrystalline cells?

All the Vertex Series solar panels use monocrystalline solar cells which means the Silicon used is purer than polycrystalline. The Vertex S is the solar panel directed at the residential market as the smaller dimensions enable the panel to cater to more complex residential roofs.

Are pvel solar panels reliable?

PVEL independent test labs perform rigorous testing to determine the most reliable solar panels. Solar PV technology is constantly evolving and many new panel technologies have only been on the market for a few years.

What is the most important criterion when choosing a solar panel?

Many people consider efficiency to be the most important criterion when selecting a solar panel but what matters more is the quality and support as explained earlier. Quality is generally related to real-world performance, reliability, company history and manufacturers warranty conditions.

How do I know if my solar panels are good?

Determining a quality solar panel is made more difficult as it is not something that can be pulled apart and checked; panels can only be assessed using specialised equipment that highlights small faults or hot spots. However, this can change once the panels are installed outside in the weather for a few years.
