Does Seiko make solar watches?

Seiko is implementing Solar Seiko into many of their watch lines, including top-of-the-line collections. The company has been making solar watches since 1977, so they know a thing or two about renewable energy sources, and have often combined different watch movements, like quartz and solar, to get the best results.

What is a Seiko Astron GPS solar?

Astron GPS Solar. With the strong, sleek lines of the Seiko Astron, the world's first commercially available quartz watch, today's Astron is designed for a new generation of leaders, breaking through to the future with excellence in both innovation and style.

Is Seiko a solar powerhouse?

Seiko's other Solar powerhouse debuted a while ago and is still smashing diving records. It's bold, practical, and environmentally responsible. The red and blue color scheme is striking. And the multipurpose dial with a rotating bezel will endure over a long time.

Are Seiko Astron GPS solar watches accurate?

And it might just represent the best way to get Seiko's most accurate watch on your wrist. The new Seiko Astron GPS Solar watches feature a look reminiscent of the ever-popular integrated luxury sports watch trend while keeping the design restrained -- something with which many previous Astron GPS Solar models have struggled.

What is a Seiko 3x62?

Powered by Seiko's new GPS solar caliber 3X62, with the improved receiver sensitivity required by the metallic bezel, this exceptional watch is GPS controlled for high-speed time and time zone adjustment to 39 time zones, and includes an in-flight mode and perpetual date calendar correct to the year 2100.

Is Seiko Astron a good watch?

With its combination of luxurious looks, decent size, robust sports watch specs and absurdly accurate movement, Seiko's new Astron GPS Solar 3X62 makes a compelling case as one of the best everyday watches in the brand's lineup. However, at $2,400, this is not a cheap watch.
