How do I choose a pile for a solar farm?

The load-bearing capacity needed for the solar farm is another critical factor in selecting the type of pile. Projects requiring high load capacities--such as those with large, heavy solar panels or in regions with significant wind forces--may necessitate the use of concrete or composite piles.

Are solar farms a good market for Pile Driving Contractors?

As the demand for renewable energy increases--solar farms are becoming an ideal market for pile driving contractors due to the need for stable, long-lasting foundations that can support large-scale solar installations.

What types of driven pile systems can I work with?

We are able to work with a wide variety of Driven Pile Systems such as the following: ATI known as Array Technologies, Nextracker, APA, OMCO, Schletter FS, Schletter FS uno, Schletter G-Max, Unirac Fixed Ground Mount Driven pier system, Solar Powers Frames LLC, Game Change Solar Maxspan Pile Driven Systems, Valmont.

What is a hydraulic pile driver?

Hydraulic pile drivers are a versatile piece of equipment commonly used in solar farm construction. These machines offer the flexibility to switch between impact and vibratory driving methods, depending on the soil conditions and project requirements.

Why do solar panels use composite piles in earthquake prone areas?

Case study #3 (composite piles in seismic zones): In an earthquake-prone area, composite piles were used to provide the necessary load capacity while also offering flexibility to absorb seismic forces--ensuring the stability of the solar panels.
