Did TikTok get a sped-up version in 2023?

Its sped-up version went viral on TikTok in 2022, which potentially played a major role in encouraging the release of the official studio version in 2023. The song, particularly its pre-chorus and chorus, has since been used by over a million users in more than 800,000 posts.

How long is a song on TikTok?

Most songs on TikTok are 15 seconds, despite being able to upload videos of 60 seconds on the platform. This is because TikTok has a special license with music providers that only permits them to play a 15-second clip. However, you can get around this if you upload MP3 files from your phone to act as soundtracks to your 60-second videos.

How do I find trending songs on TikTok?

It is surprisingly tricky to find trending songs on TikTok. One way is to go into your Discover section, click on a few videos, and note the music used in these videos. Another method is to click + on your home screen and then tap Sounds. This will bring up a series of song suggestions, including a category for TikTok Viral.
