How much do solar tubes cost?

Solar tubes can be installed for much less than skylights. On average, professionally installed solar tubes cost about $750 apiece. Skylights average $1500 to $2500, depending on size and installation complexity. If you have skills, confidence, and time, you can purchase a DIY solar tube kit for about $300 and install them yourself.

Are solar vacuum tubes expensive?

Solar vacuum tubes have always been more efficient than solar panels, but they were also more expensive. But solar manufacturing costs and new manufacturing innovations have brought the cost of solar vacuum tubes down. Naked Energy's spec sheets don't state the cost of these, and I suspect they're still a bit too pricey for individual households.

How big is a solar tube?

Most solar tubes are 10 to 14 inches in diameter, though some models go up to 22 inches. A solar tube may be flexible or rigid. Rigid tubes reflect the most sunlight into the home. A 10-inch solar tube provides enough light for a space up to 200 square feet. 14-inch sun tunnels can light up to 300 square feet.

What does a solar tube look like?

On the interior, where the tube ends and diffuses light into the room, the solar tube looks similar to recessed lighting. Solar tubes are also called sun tunnels, tubular skylights, light tubes, or sun tubes. Most solar tubes are 10 to 14 inches in diameter, though some models go up to 22 inches. A solar tube may be flexible or rigid.

Where can I install a solar tube?

A skylight installer near you can typically install a solar tube. You may also find solar tube installation through roofing contractors, solar contractors, and directly through solar tube dealers. Where can you install a solar tube? Solar tubes can be installed almost anywhere you're looking to add some natural light.
