Are solar panels covered under a homeowner's policy?

This means that as long as you own your solar panels and they are rooftop-mounted (additional policies may be required for ground-mounted systems), the system will be included under a homeowner's policy and covered in standard plans without raising your premium.

Does homeowners insurance cover rooftop solar energy?

Most rooftop solar energy systems are covered by standard homeowners policies, which doesn't change your insurance plan. However, you may need to increase the amount of coverage on your home to account for the cost of the system which can then raise your premium. Of course, not every policy or solar energy system is the same.

Are solar panels covered by a PPA?

If you subscribe to a PPA or lease your solar panels, a third party owns your system and is responsible for damage and maintenance. In this case, you will not be responsible for ensuring coverage, but you should talk to your lease or PPA provider before committing to make sure that any unforeseen damage will be covered.

Does solar insurance cover wind damage?

The cost of additional Windstorm Insurance depends on your deductible, your location, and the projected cost to rebuild your home. If you are a solar owner in one of these states, you may look into adding a wind policy to your home insurance. With the addition of this policy, your solar will be covered for wind damage as well.
